Ch-ch-changes!

When you mention the words “change” and “Ridges” in the same sentence these days, it’s not surprising that our new building, the Cook-Albert Fuller Center, quickly comes to mind. Construction began in early May, and the appearance of heavy equipment on the site heralded a significant change for our 77-year-old organization. But lots of other new things are springing up all over our campus this season. Here are just a few:

- Our educational programs have expanded to include regular evening hikes, overnight camping adventures and off-site nature activities.
- We have revamped our camp programs from top to bottom. Our Backpack Adventure Camps are designed to provide your child or grandchildren with hands-on outdoor experiences that incorporate natural discoveries, children’s literature and art.
- Part-time naturalists have been hired to help staff our expanded schedule. We welcome newcomers Lydia Doerr, Samantha Phillips, Shannon Pump, Amanda Surfus, and extend a hearty welcome back to Tony Kiszonas and Carol Schuster.
- Our Nature Center is abuzz with activity, and our Nature Store is bursting at the seams with new and exciting merchandise including many items of apparel featuring our new Ridges decal (pictured below).

- The first section of the Family Discovery Trail opens mid-June. The trail features wigwam bird blinds made by Girl Scout Troup 4374 and library stations designed by Ridges member John Newton.

New Marketing Decals

When our friends at Taylor Studios (the company handling our exhibit designs) pointed out to us that The Ridges now encompasses considerably more than the Sanctuary, we began to think of ways to graphically convey that in our print material and on our apparel. After a little mental huffing and puffing, we came up with the two graphics at right – one that incorporates our mission and the other that features all the areas of our learning campus.

An Update of Ridges Activities

Door County Festival of Nature

Among other things, this year's Festival of Nature will be remembered as the weekend when spring finally arrived in Door County! With perfect weather as the backdrop, over 250 participants enjoyed two full days of field trips that included a birding outing to Washington Island, an afternoon with a fish biologist, a boat trip to Plum Island, rare opportunities to visit outstanding private properties, hay wagon tours of Waseda Farms and many more.

Thanks to our partners Crossroads at Big Creek, the Door County Land Trust, The Nature Conservancy and the Wisconsin DNR for collaborating on this memorable annual event and for the important work they do in Door County all year long. Thanks also to our outstanding field trip leaders and volunteers. You're the best!

Finally, many thanks to our sponsors for their support: Ministry Door County Medical Center, Waseda Farms, Maxwelton Braes Lodges, Innovative Printing, LLC, Baylake Bank, Blacksmith Inn On the Shore, Bob the Painter, Carlson & Erickson Builders, Inc., Cliff Wall Subaru, Door County Maritime Museum, Door Landscape & Nursery, Door Property Owners, Ecology Sports, Fish Creek Kite Company, Inge Alverson Bacon CPA, Ludwigsen & Tishler DDS, Meissner Landscape, Inc., Mike's Port Pub & Grill, Pinkert Law Firm LLP and Thomas/Pfeifer Insurance. Agency, Inc.

Purple Martin: The Aerial Acrobat

JULY 18

Dick Nikolai, retired Wildlife Biologist with the Wisconsin DNR, illuminates purple martin ecology, including colony management and banding.

Door County Beach Health: From Beach Bum to Beach Buddy

JULY 24

Door County is comprised of over 250 miles of coast with countless opportunities for recreation. Join Brian Forest in a discussion of beach health, potential sources of contamination and remediation efforts throughout the county.

Commemorating the Centennial of the Passenger Pigeon Extinction

JULY 31

At one time the skies were darkened by millions of these migrating birds. The last surviving passenger pigeon died 100 years ago and stands as a lesson about uncontrolled harvest and disrupted nesting habitat. Stan Temple, the Beers-Bascom Professor Emeritus in Conservation at UW-Madison offers insights on this centennial observance of the tragedy.

Snakes of Wisconsin

AUGUST 7

Biologist Scott Craven dispels the myths about snakes and shares the unique concepts of snake biology and managing habitat for snakes. He will also give a brief update on important wildlife issues and species in Wisconsin. Snake specimens will be present!

State Natural Areas: Helping to Preserve Wisconsin's Biodiversity

AUGUST 14

The Ridges is proud to be one of the 673 State Natural Areas that have been preserved for research, educational use and conservation of biodiversity. Mark Martin, Natural Areas Specialist with the WI DNR from 1982 – 2011, will discuss the history and impact of the SNA program and the species that benefit from these preserved landscapes.

Chinook Salmon in the Great Lakes

AUGUST 21

Native to the Pacific Northwest, the Chinook Salmon were introduced into the Great Lakes in 1967 to control the invasive alewife. Nick Legler, Fisheries Biologist with the WI DNR, will present on the history of the Chinook and Steelhead/Rainbow trout management in the Great Lakes and adaptations to recent ecosystem changes.

Volunteer Appreciation

Sunday, August 17, 2014

We've said it before, but it bears repeating – our volunteers are the backbone of The Ridges – and a strong, flexible backbone it is! We know our volunteers do so to help out, not to receive recognition, but once a year we set aside time to celebrate your enormous contribution of time, energy and expertise.

Please join us for our annual Volunteer Appreciation event on Sunday, August 17, 4 – 6 PM, at Bjorklund. Enjoy a light supper buffet surrounded by good friends and good music! We'll also announce our Volunteers of the Year. RSVPs requested by August 8th.

Backpack Adventure Camps

Our camp programs have undergone a total makeover and are designed to provide your child with a safe, fun-filled experience in the outdoors. See the enclosed flyer for details and then register at RidgesSanctuary.org or call 920-839-2802.

Annual Meeting & Gathering

Saturday, August 2, 3:00 – 7:00 PM

Our front door is under construction, but our back door is open!

While our new building is under construction, we've planned a fun day of activities at The Ridges cabins. Our annual meeting begins at 3 PM, followed by a beverage service and hikes from 4 – 5 PM. Then enjoy a pig roast with all the fixin's and some scrumptious desserts. This year's entertainment will be provided by folk musicians Jess Holland and Nick Hoover. Jess plays banjo, Nick plays acoustic guitar and both sing vocals on blues type folk music along with uplifting bright folk songs and current popular music.

During the evening, we'll also announce our Volunteers of the Year.

Board Member Election

This year Vicki Medland and Jane Whitney have been nominated to fill the vacancies on our Board of Directors left by departing board members Jeanne Majeski and Roy Thilly. Lawrie Kull, Jim Jauquet and Ed Miller have been nominated for second terms.

Voting by the membership will take place at the Annual Meeting, August 2, 3 - 4 PM. Please review the biographies below in preparation for voting. This year's meeting will be held under the big tent behind The Ridges cabins, 8288 Hwy Q, Baileys Harbor.

VICKI MEDLAND

Vicki grew up in the Milwaukee area, developing much of her love for the natural world at her grandparents' lakefront and forest properties. There she enjoyed identifying wildflowers and insects, and also learned to SCUBA dive. She pursued these outdoor interests throughout her college career, obtaining her PhD in Ecology at the University of Georgia. Her research has addressed the impacts of human activity on wetlands ecology.

Currently, Vicki is the Associate Director of the Cofrin Center for Biodiversity at UW-Green Bay. The Cofrin Center manages the Toft Point Natural Area, adjacent to The Ridges Sanctuary. Vicki is a member of The Ridges' Research and Interpretive Design committees. She is a past board member of The Baird Creek Preservation Foundation and the Master Naturalist Program in Green Bay, WI. She is especially interested in biodiversity and the ethical use of natural areas and publishes articles and gives lectures on environmental ethics and biodiversity related topics. She also teaches courses related to environmental science at UW Green Bay.

Annual Gathering

Tickets are $40/person. Space is limited, so we encourage you to reserve your spot soon!

RSVPs requested by July 18.

920-839-2802 or online: www.RidgesSanctuary.org

JANE WHITNEY

Jane grew up in Rockport, Massachusetts and spent her working life in Baraboo, Wisconsin until retiring to Baileys Harbor with her husband John in 2007. In Baraboo, she worked as a librarian at an elementary school and at the public library before working for 16 years at UW Baraboo including 3 years working with UW inmate/students at the men's Federal Correctional Institution in Oxford WI.

Jane's interest in natural history started in childhood on the coast of Massachusetts where she was free to roam the woods, scour the Atlantic beaches for detritus, explore the granite quarries, bike far and wide, ride horses, and swim. After moving to Baileys Harbor in 2007 and discovering the diversity of habitats including the boreal-like forest, she set out to learn as much as she could about the plant and animal species that live here and is still learning. In 2014, she completed the UW-Extension Master Naturalist Program. She is an active volunteer for Bjorklund, Friends of Toft Point, The Clearing and the Door County Land Trust.

Jane has volunteered at The Ridges in various ways--leading hikes, working in the store, helping to plan and lead programs, identifying plants, pollinating orchids and developing the Natural Christmas event. She believes that serving as a Board member of The Ridges Sanctuary represents an extension of her commitment to all that The Ridges does.
