From the Trailhead

Happy Anniversary to us! In June we celebrate one full year of operation in the Cook-Fuller Nature Center, and what a year it's been! Since June 13, 2015, over 21,000 people have visited the Center. Most gratifying has been the response to the new facility from the members and donors who supported the building project from the early planning stages right through to completion. Their faith in this vision for the future of The Ridges never wavered, and we are delighted to see their efforts come to fruition. Baileys Harbor has fully embraced the Center, and we continue to find ways to partner with our community throughout the year. And, of course, we never tire of watching people discover this special place for the first time. We'll be open from 9 AM – 6 PM, Memorial Day through Labor Day, and we look forward to seeing you this summer!

On March 29 the Wednesday Crew, working in conjunction with Peil Construction, completed the main trunk of the Hidden Brook Boardwalk, connecting the new trailhead to the original 5-mile trail loop. The spring issue of Sanctuary tells the whole story of this extraordinary volunteer-supported effort. If you haven't received your issue in the mail, you can download it on our website at RidgesSanctuary.org/Publications/Sanctuary. Please join us for light refreshments and a ribbon cutting ceremony on September 1 at 10 AM as we observe the completion of this important project.

This spring Split Rock Studios in St. Paul, MN, was selected to fabricate and install our interpretive exhibits. Split Rock has built an excellent reputation within the museum and interpretive community for high quality exhibits and is active in both the National Association for Interpretation (NAI) and American Alliance of Museums (AAM). We look forward to working with them in the months ahead and anticipate that the exhibit installation will take place in November.

Can You See Us Now? New Entrance Sign

Over the winter we've been working with JAG Outdoor Advertising in Algoma to design a permanent entrance sign for the Center. JAG, a family-owned business, was founded in 1946. They produce a wide variety of signs from electronic to hand carved, and many of their products can be seen throughout Door County. Supplied with a series of conceptual designs by volunteer Jim Tyndall, we met with Paul Wauters to fine tune the design and select a color palette. In order to best match the construction style of our building, we chose a hand-painted, sandblasted sign. On May 12 the installation was completed, and we couldn't be happier with the results!

Volunteer Appreciation

August 21, 4 - 6 PM

If there was ever a time that demonstrated the extent to which we rely on our volunteers and the enthusiasm with which they respond, it was the last 12 months! Volunteers have staffed our front desk, built the main trunk of the Hidden Brook Boardwalk, started the Upper Range Light restoration project, supported our Orchid Restoration effort, led hikes and programs, maintained trails, and assisted with mailings. And we're probably missing a few things, but you get the idea. All in all, these dedicated folks have logged a staggering 3,000+ hours since last June!

We invite you to join us as we celebrate YOU - our phenomenal volunteers! - on Sunday, August 21, 4 - 6 PM, at the Cook-Fuller Nature Center. Enjoy a light supper buffet surrounded by good friends and good music! RSVP by August 15.

New Guide to The Ridges Sanctuary

Our new pocket guide is hot off the presses and available for sale in the Nature Store! The full color, fold-out guide features illustrations, popular and Latin names and brief descriptions of familiar plants and animals found in the Sanctuary. Many thanks to Visitor Services Manager Kate LeRoy and member Jane Whitney for the hours of work they devoted to researching, compiling and producing this wonderful piece in time for the summer season.

New Development Director

The Ridges is pleased to announce the hiring of Drew Richmond as our new Development Director. He replaces Judy Drew who is retiring at the end of May after leading our fundraising and marketing efforts for the past five years.

Richmond comes with years of fundraising experience for the YMCA. For eight years, he was the Camp Director for Camp Manito-Wish YMCA in northern Wisconsin. For the past four years, he has been Director for the Northern Door YMCA Program Center and, for the past two years, also acted as the Door

County YMCA Development Director. He brings with him strong backgrounds in environmental education, fundraising and leadership skills.

We are confident that Drew Richmond is ready to carry on the fundraising and marketing efforts Judy has so effectively established during her tenure with The Ridges. Drew will join the staff June 27 and looks forward to getting to know everyone over the summer months.

Board Elections: This year Cynthia Crock and Tony Fiorato have been nominated to fill vacancies on our Board of Directors left by departing board members Lawrie Kull and Bob Ryan. Jim Flynt and Bill Wolff have been nominated for a second term. Please review the biographies below in preparation for voting.

By-Law Amendment to Voting: Members also will be asked to vote on a proposal to amend the current bylaws to permit absentee voting. Currently the bylaws state that voting members must be present at a meeting in order to vote.

Voting on board elections and the by-law amendment will take place at 4 PM.

CYNTHIA CROCK

After graduating from Jefferson High School in Cedar Rapids, IA, I went to Iowa State University. After graduation I pursued a career in business, starting by working at Northwestern Bell. I began in customer service, then became an instructor and later a supervisor before switching to marketing. Following the divestiture of the Bell System from AT&T, I went to work for one of my former customers in the Los Angeles area and completed an MBA at the University of Iowa. I subsequently was hired into national account sales in the Chicago area corrugated packaging division of Weyerhaeuser Company where my client base included the Kraft Foods division of Philip Morris, Smuckers and Procter & Gamble. I retired from that position at the end of 2007. My husband Larry and I began vacationing in Door County in the mid-80s and moved to Baileys Harbor shortly after my retirement.

I spent almost two years working in financial development at the Y in Sturgeon Bay before finally deciding to do the things I hadn't been able to do when I was working. Since then I have been church treasurer for 3+ years, where I implemented QuickBooks for managing the church financial information and then trained my replacement. I also have been a facilitator for Bible study groups and have served as secretary of my Rotary club and on the PMF Sustaining Committee board. I am the "weakest link" in a string quartet with friends I have made in that organization. I have been on The Ridges Financial and Membership Committees and volunteer several hours a week the front desk.

TONY FIORATO

I am a civil engineer and have worked in consulting, testing and research, as well as in engineering and research program management. Since retiring, I've contributed as a volunteer to the technical and administrative activities of several non-profit organizations including the American Concrete Institute (ACI), a technical institute with about 16,000 volunteer members in over 120 countries, and also served as Chairman of ACI's Financial Advisory Committee which monitors the Institute's financial performance, reserve funds and retirement plan investments. I served on ACI's Board of Directors and as President of the Institute in 2004. I also served on the Board of Directors of ASTM International, a voluntary consensus standards development organization that has been responsible for developing over 12,000 standards including those impacting environmental sampling and testing, preservation and conservation and sustainability. I was a member of the ASTM Executive Committee, the Finance Committee and was Chairman of the Board in 2006.

I currently am Chairman of the Door County Land Trust Stewardship Endowment Fund Board of Trustees which is responsible for management and investment of Trust assets. I also volunteer with The Ridges Wednesday Crew.

Participating in ACI and ASTM taught me the importance of working with senior staff to set policy and strategic direction consistent with an organization's mission and of ensuring that the organization is focused on its mission, is well managed and is financially sound. The new Nature Center has energized interest in The Ridges and expanded opportunities for new programs. With new opportunities come new challenges that the board will need to address. I would appreciate the opportunity to contribute to this effort.

An Update of Ridges Activities

Restore the Range Light

Preserving the Past. Lighting the Future.

In 2013, we successfully completed fundraising for Phase II of a three-pronged vision for the future of The Ridges. Phase II incorporated the construction of a LEED Certified nature center with interpretive exhibits, a comprehensive site plan for storm water management and a universally accessible boardwalk. Now with those capital projects at or nearing completion, we are ready to begin working on the third and final phase of our vision for the future, the restoration of a historic Door County landmark, the Upper Range Light, and its two outbuildings, the Oil House and Privy. Work on this iconic lighthouse is already under way with completion anticipated sometime in 2018.

Built in 1869 and added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1989, the Upper Range Light and its companion the Lower Range Light are the only lighthouses of this design that are still on range and functional as private navigational aids. The current project will restore the buildings to the period between 1896 and 1923 when the longest serving light keeper, Henry Gattie, resided in the Upper Range Light. The total cost of the project is estimated at $487,000.

This season the Upper Range Light will be open to the public (see tour schedule below so that visitors can learn about the restoration process, the fascinating history of the Lights and the stories of the people who called them home. We invite you to join us in this exciting project. Donating is easy! Use the form below and mail your tax-deductible gift to The Ridges, PO Box 152, Baileys Harbor, WI 54202 or donate online at RidgesSanctuary.org/Support-Us/Restore-the-Range-Light/
