The Changing Face of Our Campus

It's a brand spanking New Year! Before we tell you what lies ahead, we look back with pride – and a little awe – at everything that transpired in 2015.

After enjoying a successful summer season in the Cook-Fuller Center, we rolled right into a busy fall. By the end of November, over 17,000 visitors had passed through our doors, 152 of whom became members. Almost 5,000 experienced the beauty of the Sanctuary trails through naturalist guided hikes or self-guided exploration, and crowds of enthusiastic shoppers kept us hopping to restock our Nature Store shelves – a challenge our Visitor Services staff embraced wholeheartedly! Of course, we couldn't have done any of this without the legions of volunteers who logged over 1,100 hours staffing our front desk.

Although the opening of our new Center was the focal point of 2015, it wasn't the only big change taking place at The Ridges. On June 11, after being dark for four decades, the iconic Upper and Lower Range Lights shone again and now will remain permanently lit. Ed Miller, a Ridges board member with a passion for these increasingly rare lighthouses, applied to the Coast Guard and received approval for the relighting in late April.

He then worked with Tom Fey of the Coast Guard Station in Two Rivers to obtain a replacement red lens lantern for the Lower Range Light. Now that the Range Lights are functioning as private navigational aids, the Coast Guard was able to remove the Baileys Harbor directional light and day board.

Once the relighting was accomplished, Ed turned his attention to the restoration of the Upper Range Light. Ed was actively involved in the restoration of the Lower Range Light and currently chairs The Ridges Lighthouse Committee. Last spring, The Ridges retained preservation architect Laura Davis of Isthmus Architecture in Madison to prepare a Historic Structures Report. When completed, the report will define the structural scope and expense of the restoration and help to set future fundraising goals for the project.

On October 11, a crew of five hardy souls set out across Clark Lake to take delivery of the newest addition to our Logan Creek property. Thanks to a generous donation by Charles and Carol Davelis, we have acquired a sixty-foot dock to place at the shoreline on the east side of the lake. Visitors will now have the opportunity to paddle up by canoe or kayak and enter and hike the trail system at a point between the two existing overlooks. It will be a veritable surf and turf experience! Thanks again to Charles and Carol for the donation that made this possible. Also thanks to Bob DeFaut for using and piloting his pontoon boat to make numerous trips across the lake to deliver dock sections to the opposite shore. Also, thanks to Bill Hebal and Lawrie Kull for donning their waders and helping Steve and Brian with the move.

And rounding out 2015 ... we're pleased to announce that visitors to The Ridges in 2016 will be among the first to experience the new Hidden Brook boardwalk. The handicapped-accessible boardwalk is almost 1,800 feet long and will be completed as weather permits thanks to the combined efforts of our extraordinary Wednesday Crew volunteers and professional contractor Eric Peil.

The ADA compliant, 8-foot wide structure winds through over a quarter mile of critical wetland habitat for native orchids, the federally threatened dwarf lake iris and the federally endangered Hine's emerald dragonfly before connecting with the interior Sanctuary trail loop.

Happy New Year!

We can't wait to see what 2016 has in store!

Now you can shop our Nature Store anytime from anywhere! Our online store went live just in time for the 2015 holiday season and features some of our most popular store items including Ridges gear, books and gift cards. Check back often to see what's new!

To start shopping, access the online store by clicking the link in the logo above or visit us on Facebook and click on the Shop Now tab at the top of our page.

RIDGES LITES

An Update of Ridges Activities

Reflections on The Ridges

A Winter Art & Lecture Series

Reflections on The Ridges, our new winter art & lecture series, brings together a diverse group of artists and presenters under a common theme – the natural beauty of The Ridges.

The 4-month series will showcase a different local artist and art medium each month from January through April. Each exhibit will be on view for a full month beginning with an opening reception on the first Thursday of the month. Following the opening reception, guests are invited to enjoy a program highlighting a cultural, geological or biological feature of The Ridges.

We kick things off in January with an exhibit featuring the stunning nature photography of Door County's own Len Villano. Join us for a wine and cheese reception on January 7, 4 – 6:30 PM, followed at 7 PM by a program on Ecology of The Ridges Through the Seasons. Learn about the natural communities that comprise The Ridges, the geological process that formed them and the unique species they support each season.

Reflections on The Ridges is free and open to the public. Upcoming exhibits and program topics:

January 7	4 – 6:30 PM 7 PM	Opening Reception - Len Villano, Photography Ecology of The Ridges Through the Seasons
February 4	4 – 6:30 PM 7 PM	Opening Reception - Corrine Lea, Mixed Media Owls of Door County
March 3	4 – 6:30 PM 7 PM	Opening Reception - Alfred Stark, Woodblock Prints Albert Fuller, Founding Father of The Ridges
April 7	4 – 6:30 PM 7 PM	Opening Reception - Doug Sherman, Photography Sandhill Cranes in Door County

Save the Date!

We'll be sending reminders of these important dates throughout the year, but if you want to get a jump on your 2016 Schedule, mark your calendars now for these events:

- Waffle Breakfast - February 6
- Spring Work Day - May 7
- Festival of Nature - May 26 - 29
- Annual Meeting & Gathering - August 6
- Volunteer Recognition - August 21
- Fall Work Day - October 1
- Natural Christmas - December 10

Meet: The Ridges Workshop,
8288 County Q, Baileys Harbor.
$25 – Adult Member
$30 – Public

Snowy Owl Presentation

March 5, Saturday at 11 AM

Spotting a snowy owl in winter is a special treat for many bird watchers. Project Snowstorm is a working group of owl researchers who have tracked snowy owls for the past two winters using cell phone transmitters. Presenters Mark Martin & Sue Foote-Martin, Managers at Madison Audubon Society's Goose Pond Sanctuary, report on what they have learned from "Goose Pond," a male snowy owl that was fitted with a transmitter last winter at Goose Pond in Columbia County. They'll also provide other snowy owl data collected by Project Snowstorm. FREE

Owl Meet & Greet!

March 5, Saturday at 1 PM

Get up close and personal with some of Door County's resident raptors. Representatives from Open Door Bird Sanctuary will be on hand with birds for you to observe. Drop in and learn a little bit about what separates raptors from other birds and owls from other raptors. FREE

RIDGES SANCTUARY THE GREAT

WAFFLE Breakfast

8th Annual RIDGES SANCTUARY Great Waffle Breakfast

Saturday, February 6, 9 - 11 AM

Long overdue for a really great breakfast? We invite you to join the staff and volunteers of The Ridges for the Great Waffle Breakfast. Again this year, the Baileys Harbor Town Hall will be filled with the aroma of delectable, golden waffles. This is the eighth year for our popular breakfast event, so you can be sure we've ironed out all the details! Enjoy your fill of waffles of all shapes and sizes, topped with Door County maple syrup, home-made cherry topping and whipped cream.

Donations of $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12 will be accepted at the door.

The Great Waffle Breakfast is generously sponsored by the Cordon Family Foundation in Memory of Ray Cordon.
